Strongly Encourages Your Participation in the WINGS – Pilot Proficiency Program

It has been shown statistically that a proficient pilot is a safer pilot.

We invite you to join over 515,000 other airmen on FAASafety.gov, the FAASafety Team's web site designed with you in mind. Filled with many resources for all airmen, regardless of your aviation skills and abilities, we think you will find something of interest.

- Aviation Learning Center – filled with great on-line courses, references and links
- FAASafety Team Directory – find a Representative or Program Manager anywhere in the country to help you with local or cross-country flight planning and to get answers to those really challenging questions
- SPANS – Safety Program Notification System – alerts you of upcoming safety events in your area – provides a variety of other email lists to join for important and nice to know aviation information
- Maintenance Hangar – AMT awards program (Jan 09) and many other useful tools for the AMT at heart
- WINGS – Pilot Proficiency Program – The very new proficiency-based program where you can design your own personal proficiency training schedule that meets your skills and operational needs.

All this and much more await you at FAASafety.gov. It's easy and fun to participate and its all FREE. So what are you waiting for? We look forward to seeing you on-line soon.
